

Natural London, Wild London

Creating wilder spaces, more natural places and better management of them

- Ensuring London's unique habitats and the wildlife they support are robust and healthy
- Supporting partners to carry out good land management
- Encouraging people to enjoy and appreciate the capital's best wildlife and finest landscapes

Longhorns grazing at Walthamstow Marsh

Copyright - Lee Valley Regional Park Authority

Natural London, Active London

Promoting welcoming spaces, more accessible places and greater involvement in them

- Promoting active involvement in the management and care of greenspaces
- Encouraging people to use greenspaces for their health and well-being more often
- Increasing the diversity of people enjoying and understanding the natural environment

Natural London, Sustainable London

Improving spaces for nature, places for people and the linkages between them

- Conserving wildlife and landscapes through effective land-use planning
- Ensuring greenspace and habitat creation is part of all new development
- Increasing the amount of natural greenspace accessible to all

Natural London, Future London

Making climate-proof places and natural spaces more resilient for the future

- Promoting the benefits of green infrastructure in adapting to climate change
- Helping wildlife to cope with changing habitats
- Encouraging understanding and action on the impacts of climate change

